

FY2015Q1 Highlights

We are seeing an increase in the number of middle and high school students using the LexMedia facilities. We had four interns this summer, all from Lexington schools. The students helped with all aspects of studio and field productions: creating content, operating cameras, and editing. There were 15 students, full capacity, for our summer movie class and in September we have started training 30 students at Diamond Middle School for a journalism project.

In this first quarter we also produced 6 episodes of a new cooking series titled, “What’s Cooking?” We covered the July 4th fireworks and celebrations, summer concerts and softball games. “Coffee With the Candidates” was back by popular demand, the interview show we produce to spotlight the candidates for selectmen and school committee. A member started a “man on the street” interview show where she asks residents to comment on current town-wide issues. We also continue to contribute stories for the regional news show, “Local Focus.”

I’m happy to report that we have fulfilled our contract obligations for coverage of government meeting and that the RCN HD channel is now fully functional.

c) Number of Hours by Type of Programming (Public, Education, Government, and LexMedia or non-LexMedia produced programming)

LexMedia hours of programming continue to be stable. We average 100 hours of programming per quarter on the Government channel, 130 hours on the Public channel and 35 hours on the Education channel. We are slightly low on the Education channel this quarter, due to the break in school activities and other community sponsored events over the summer. Programs that were filmed in the summer are still in productions so they are not counted in Q1 programming.

Below is a breakdown of all LexMedia produced and non-LexMedia produced first run program hours for each channel. Each program was repeated at least three times as required by our contract.
